

Damn the Cost... I'm going to Italy!

Have you been waiting for the perfect year to see Italy? Something always comes up, right? May I make a suggestion? Close your eyes, take a deep breath and send in your deposit. People will be disappointed, you'll miss somebody's birthday ... but two years from now none of that will be remembered. Only this magical time you had with your camera and perhaps someone you love.

If you're a pro photographer, you may miss a paying gig. That's painful, I know. However, I promise you personally, that because of this workshop, you'll be ahead financially and psychologically by the end of the year.

For you portrait photographers, I've added 2 advanced sessions on family and children's portraiture. For everybody, Randy Collier will show you his 10 most practical Photoshop and Lightroom techniques. Luigi Barbano will teach HDR imaging to capture impossible scenes. Add to that daily critique and discussions about raising the artistic bar, and you will go home a better photographer.

In all my years teaching in Italy, there has been only one person who said she didn't learn enough. She was crazy!
